

Natural Resources
& the Environment

Dr. Richard G. Snyder
Wildlife Refuge & Field School

Preserving nature, inspiring the future.

3720 N. Silver Drive, Tucson, AZ 85749

OCT 10, 10-11:30 AM

Birds and Bites

EXPLORING WEST NILE VIRUS ECOLOGY
IN TUCSON, AZ

West Nile virus is one of the world's most common mosquito-borne diseases. Learn where it's found in Tucson, explore current research, and discover what it means for our community, wildlife, and environment.

Gracie Ann Fischer is a PhD student at the University of Arizona School of Natural Resources and the Environment studying disease transmission between wildlife and people.

